Introduction

1. The United States supplied the UNCTAD secretariat with detailed information on its imports from beneficiaries of its scheme of generalized preferences in 1990 and 1991. 1/ A summary of the information contained in this reply is given below and the detailed data on imports from beneficiaries are presented in tables 1, 2 and 3 of the annex to this note. 2/

United States imports from beneficiaries in 1990 and 1991

2. Annex table 1, part A, shows the value of total, dutiable, covered and preferential imports from all beneficiaries and various groups of beneficiaries of the United States scheme in 1990 and 1991, as well as the value of imports of products which did not receive preferential treatment either because of the competitive need criteria or for other reasons. Part B of the table gives the same information for individual beneficiary suppliers. In both cases imports are subdivided into agricultural and industrial products.

3. As shown in table 1, the United States recorded imports from 127 beneficiaries in 1990 and 132 in 1991. One of these beneficiary suppliers did not export any dutiable products in 1990. Four others in 1990 and six in 1991 had MFN dutiable trade but were not covered by the scheme. Furthermore, 19 other beneficiary suppliers in 1990 and 21 in 1991 did not receive preferential treatment either because they did not meet the origin requirements or for other reasons. Thus 103 and 105 beneficiaries in 1990 and 1991, respectively, supplied goods covered by the scheme which received preferential treatment.

4. Total United States imports from all beneficiaries amounted to $95.2 billion in 1990 and $96 billion in 1991, respectively. Of these, $74.7 billion or 78.5 per cent were MFN dutiable in 1990 and $74 billion or 77.1 per cent in 1991. Some $24.6 billion or 32.9 per cent of these dutiable imports were covered by the scheme in 1990 and $26.9 billion or 36.4 per cent in 1991, while $11 billion or 44.7 per cent of the covered products actually received preferential treatment in 1990 and $13.7 billion or 50.9 per cent in 1991. The bulk of these preferential imports consisted of industrial products ($9.8 billion) or 89.1 per cent in 1990 and ($12.2 billion) or 89.1 per cent in 1991; the remaining ($1.2 billion) in 1990 and ($1.5 billion) in 1991 or 10.9 per cent for the two years, respectively, were agricultural products.

5. Six major supplying beneficiaries accounted in 1990 for 81 per cent ($19.9 billion) of United States imports of covered products from all beneficiaries and for 81.5 per cent ($21.9 billion) in 1991. Mainly as a result of competitive need exclusions, the percentage share of these major suppliers in total United States preferential imports was smaller ($7.4 billion) or 66.9 per cent in 1990 and ($9.7 billion) or 71.1 per cent in 1991. In 1991, ranked by order of the value of their covered imports, the major suppliers were: Mexico, Malaysia, Thailand, Brazil, Philippines and Indonesia. It should be noted that Brazil, which was the second beneficiary supplier of covered products in 1990, dropped to fourth place in 1991.

6. The United States recorded imports from 34 least developed countries (LDCs) in 1990 and 35 in 1991. 3/ Of the total imports from these countries ($1,596 million) 69.7 per cent or $1,113 million were MFN dutiable of which $97 million or 8.7 per cent were covered by the scheme. However, $41 million or 42.1 per cent of these covered imports were denied preferential treatment on account of failure to meet the origin requirements or for other reasons. Thus, $56 million, or 57.9 per cent, actually received preferential treatment. Likewise in 1991, MFN dutiable imports amounted to $1,036 million or 74.6 per cent of the total imports. Covered products amounted to $83 million or 8 per cent of the MFN dutiable imports while imports which actually received preferential treatment were valued at $49 million or 59.5 per cent of covered imports.

7. Nine of the LDC suppliers (Haiti, Mozambique, Bangladesh, Malawi, Nepal, Rwanda, Botswana, Western Samoa and Comoros) supplied 95.7 per cent of covered imports and 75.5 per cent of preferential imports into the United States from this group of countries in 1991.

8. Haiti alone accounted for 42.9 per cent of preferential imports from LDCs in 1991. Moreover, the utilization rate (i.e. ratio of preferential to effectively covered imports) of the United States scheme by LDCs was significant, being 59.4 per cent in 1991 for preferential imports from LDCs and 50.8 per cent from all beneficiaries in the same year.

9. United States imports of products covered under their scheme from Mediterranean (MED) and ACP countries, which enjoy special tariff preferences in the EEC market, amounted to $747 million and $483 million, respectively, in 1991. However, after taking into account products excluded by competitive need criteria or those denied preferences for other reasons, preferential imports from Mediterranean countries and ACP countries amounted to $726 million and $461 million, respectively. In both cases the rate of utilization was largely above average for all beneficiary suppliers. In 1991 for Mediterranean countries and ACP countries, it was 91.1 per cent and 65 per cent, respectively. It should be noted that covered imports (in value terms) and consequently imports from ACP countries in 1991 decreased in relation to those effectuated in 1990, while such imports from Mediterranean countries remained more or less stable.

10. Table 2 of the annex shows United States imports in 1991 of major products covered under the scheme along with the major suppliers. Some 356 products in 1991 accounted for 80 per cent of United States imports of all covered products from all beneficiaries. They comprised mostly industrial products (304) accounting for 90.6 per cent ($19.518 million) of the total value of United States imports of all major covered products from beneficiaries.

11. Preferential imports of major products amounted to $9,747 million in 1991, or 71.3 per cent of total United States preferential imports. While the number of beneficiary suppliers varied widely as between individual major products, generally two to six major supplying beneficiaries accounted for the bulk of United States preferential imports of these products.

12. In value terms, the most important major covered agricultural products imported from beneficiaries were (figures in brackets represent the value of imports in millions of dollars in 1991): HS item 1701.11.01 cane sugar ($348.5); HS item 2203.00.00 Beer made from malt ($140.7); HS item 0709.60.00 Fruits of the Genus Capsicum... During the same period, the most important industrial products were: HS item 8544.30.00 Insulated ignition wiring sets ($1,371.8); HS item 8521.10.00 Magnetic tape-type ($539.8); HS item 8708.21.00 Safety seat belts ($530.4); HS item 7113.19.50 Articles of jewellery... ($147.7).

Competitive need exclusions

13. As may be seen in table 1A, products covered by the United States scheme, but excluded from preferential treatment by competitive need criteria with respect to individual beneficiaries, represented 39.5 per cent in 1990 ($9,727 million) of total United States imports from beneficiaries of products covered by the scheme and 29.7 per cent in 1991 ($7,997 million). 4/

14. Table 3 of the annex shows the excluded products and the value of such imports from individual beneficiaries affected by competitive need criteria. In 1991, 16 beneficiaries were affected by competitive need criteria with regard to 108 products of which 20 were agricultural products and 88 industrial products. The number of products excluded ranged from one or a few in the case of most beneficiaries affected to as many as 65 for Mexico, 11 for Brazil, seven for Thailand, five each for Israel and Malaysia three each for the Dominican Republic, Venezuela and former-Yugoslavia, two for Chile and one for Argentina, Bahamas, Colombia, Guatemala, India, Indonesia and Turkey, respectively. More than half of products were excluded in 1991 by the criterion of absolute value ($96.4 million) or ($37.4 million) in the case of countries which became "sufficiently competitive" in trade in the items. The remaining exclusions were based on the percentage criterion (50 per cent as a general rule or 25 per cent) in the case of countries which became "sufficiently competitive" in trade in the items.

15. In terms of the percentage shares of their covered exports excluded from preferential treatment by the competitive need criteria (table 1, column 11), the beneficiaries affected by an amount greater than 30 per cent (in order of importance) are the following: Chile (52.1 per cent); Mexico (37.3 per cent); and Colombia (33.1 per cent). However, in terms of the absolute value of covered products excluded from preferential treatment by the competitive need criteria, the beneficiaries most affected were: Mexico ($4,262.7 million); Thailand ($624.6 million); Malaysia ($546.8 million); Brazil ($454.9 million). These four beneficiaries accounted for 82.9 per cent of the total United States imports of covered imports excluded from preferential treatment by the competitive need criteria.

Notes

1/ The detailed information has been supplied on computer tapes.

2/ Information received from the United States on trade effects of its scheme for the years 1976, 1977, 1978/1979, 1986/1987 and 1989 is contained in documents TD/B/C.5/30 Add. 4 and 14 and TD/B/C.5/PREF/8, 33 and 44, respectively.

3/ Although Madagascar, Zambia and Zaire were recognized as LDCs by the United Nations General Assembly, they had not yet been added to the LDC list of the United States GSP scheme. Therefore, imports from those countries are not taken into account in imports from LDCs into the United States.

4/ In the announcement of results of GSP reviews of the United States Trade Representative of 15 June 1992, this last figure was revised and reduced to $7.1 billion. Therefore, figures given in the above paragraphs are partly derived from that announcement.
